Amirali Zand

Frontend Developer

3+ years
shipping production interfaces

> Frontend developer with 3+ years building responsive, high-performance web applications in React, Next.js and TypeScript. Rebuilt an Iranian alternative app store from the ground up, shipped installable PWAs and AI-powered product features, and own the release pipeline that puts them in front of users. Focused on performance, clean architecture and working closely with design, backend and product.

Experience

SI

Senior Frontend Developer · Sib Irani

2024 — Present
Tehran, Iran

- Rebuilt the Sib Irani app-store platform from scratch in Next.js and TypeScript, including full PWA support — installable, offline-capable, no app-store download required.
- Built Face Age, an AI facial-analysis feature driven by webcam capture and MediaPipe, and shipped Brookli, a calorie-tracking PWA with real-time meal logging.
- Delivered the dashboards behind the developer portal local publishers use to submit, review and manage their apps.
- Owned the release process end to end — versioning, staging deployments, pre-production testing and the CI/CD workflow.
- Established a reusable React architecture and shared component layer, then profiled and reworked rendering and API flow to cut load times.

AD

Junior Frontend Developer · Amatis Dana Tech

2023 — 2024
Tehran, Iran

- Built and shipped React UI components across several team projects as an individual contributor.
- Reduced page load times by trimming bundle size and reworking asset loading strategy.
- Integrated REST APIs and worked directly with design and backend to deliver complete product modules.
